August 2011, London, England – Flawless fingertips take flight! Virgin Atlantic names CND Shellac in “Wildfire” the official nail color for their flight attendants. Siren-red Wildfire CND Shellac promises two week round-trip wear with no chipping, smudging or dulling and perfectly coordinates with the Virgin Atlantic logo and uniforms.

CND Shellac is not just for the flight crew... As of May 1, Virgin began offering free manicures in their luxurious Clubhouse lounges at Heathrow and Gatwick airports to their First and Business Class passengers as an “upgrade” option. Each CND Shellac service includes a gift of SolarOil™, 10 CND Shellac Remover Wraps, a bottle of acetone and a list of regional CND Shellac salons.

“We are honored to unite the chic, fashion-forward Virgin Atlantic Airlines with CND Shellac, the Power Polish that shines on at 30,000 feet,” says CND Founder, Jan Arnold.

CND Shellac service details can be found on Virgin Atlantic’s Website, www.Virgin-Atlantic.com.
